CONSULTANCY PROJECT REPORT

OBJECTIVE:

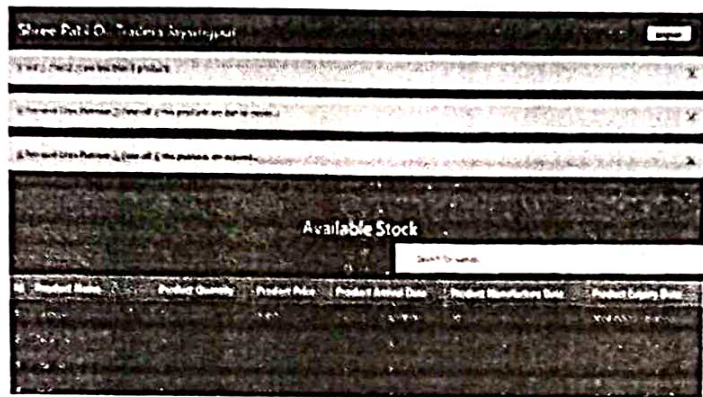

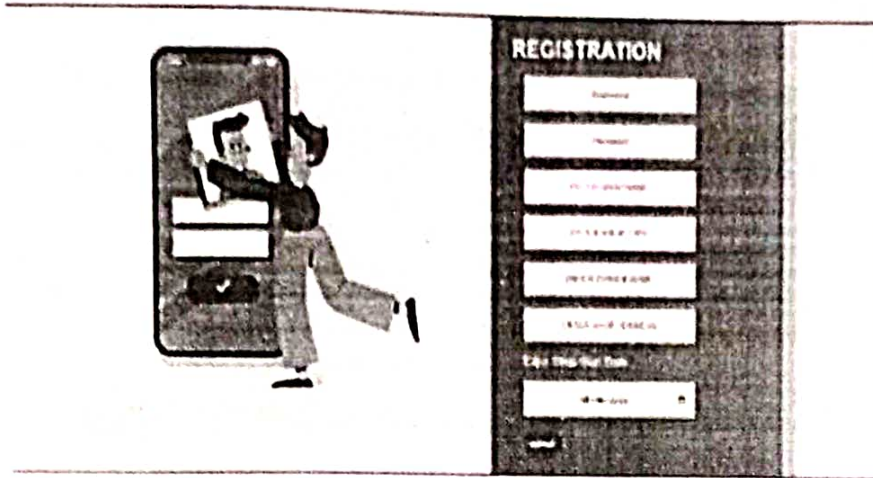

To manage the organization's inventory system, this project aims to develop the Stock Management System web application. By conducting the survey in several businesses and malls, The word "stock management system" describes the processes and techniques utilized by a business to manage its inventory while implementing technological solutions. This system can be used to maintain track of inventory, update inventory depending on sales data, and produce daily or weekly sales and inventory reports. Software called an inventory management system is useful for companies that run hardware stores where the owner maintains records of sales and purchases. Workplace mistakes, manual delays, and process speeding up. A store owner can use an inventory management system to keep track of sales and available stock, as well as to determine when and how much to reorder.
